TRAIN DESTROYED.

Boers Attack Property on Border of the Transvaal.

BRITISH SOLDIERS KILLED.

One Report Says Fifteen of Queen's Warriors Were Slain.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF HOSTILITIES.

The Representative of United States at Pretoria is Instructed by Washington Authorities to Look After England's Interests.

London, Oct. 13.—The war office has received the following: dispatch from the general commanding the forces at Cape Town: "An armored train from Mafeking, escorted by seven-pound guns sent from here to Mafeking, was attacked at Kraaipan. Apparently a rail had been removed. The train left the track and the Boers fired into it, with artillery for a half hour and captured it. Telegraphic communication with Mafeking is interrupted at Kraaipan. The women and children have been sent to Cape Town. The guns referred to belonged to the colony. They are light and of old pattern. We have no details as to casualties."

London, Oct. 13.—An official dispatch received at the colonial office says: "The armored train was destroyed near Kraaipan station while on the way to Mafeking with guns. This disposes of the fear that many women and children were involved in the disaster."

London, Oct. 13.—The Evening News publishes the following dispatch from Cape Town: "An armored train has been destroyed south of Mafeking, 15 British troops being killed. The Boers shelled the wreckage after the train was derailed."

London, Oct. 13.—The first act of war was the swarming of the Boers across the border of Natal and the occupation of Laings Nek. An advance in the direction of New Castle is also reported.

The British field force in Natal under Generals White and Symons remains on the defensive. The main body of troops in Cape Colony is stationary, but a strong force has moved from Mafeking in Bechuanaland toward the Transvaal border, taking guns and ambulance equipment.

This force consists chiefly of rough riders and crack marksmen from Bulawayo and is stiffened with the Northumberland fusiliers or the "Fighting Fifth," regarded by Kitchener as, on the whole, his best regiment.

The cavalry is commanded by Colonel Baden Powell, brother of the late Sir George Powell, well known as a yachtsman, and the infantry by Colonel Plumer. These two officers were the best on the British side during the Matabele rebellion. This advance excites surprise and anxiety in the military circles of London and is not understood to be in line with the general defensive operations. The ground covered is also the track of the ill-fated Jameson raid.

General Kronje's force, is massed on that quarter. Whatever may be the movements of the few days, it is not believed at the war office that either of the Transvaal commanders occupying Laings Nek or the Free State forces entering Natal through Van Reenen's pass will make any serious advance against the British lines. The utmost which is considered possible is a strenuous and successful attempt to cut the lines of communication between Pietermaritzburg and Ladysmith.

There is an idea at the war office that either Durban or Pietermaritzburg is in danger from the Boer raiders. The first shot of war, it is now admitted, has been fired. It came from a Boer patrol, who fired on the mail train from Natal. The seizure of a mail train in the Free State at Harrismith is also reported.

Public opinion here has rapidly stiffened since President Kruger's incredibly stupid ultimatum, but the moral support of America is eagerly sought.

This is not on the principle that one good turn in last year's war deserves another in this year's campaign, but because the English people, after being bewildered by the polemics of the controversy are now convinced that the unity of the empire is at stake and that the war is righteous, and they covet the good opinion of America.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Given Authorities at Washington of the Anglo-Transvaal War. Washington, Oct. 13.—The state department was notified of the withdrawal from Pretoria of Mr. Conyngham Greene, the British diplomatic agent to the South African republic, and the existence of a state of war between Great Britain and that republic. Mr. Macrum, the American consul at Pretoria, has accordingly been instructed to undertake the care of the British interests in that section during the war.

The notification came to the state department in the shape of a note from Mr. Tower, the charge of the British embassy here. The details of the transfer of British interests in case of war had been previously arranged, so that all that was necessary was the dispatch of a brief cablegram to Mr. Macrum at Pretoria.

This officer is the superior in rank to the other consular representatives of the United States not only in the Transvaal but in the Orange Free State, and he has been instructed to give these officials the necessary directions. The only consular official besides Mr. Macrum in the South African republic is a Mr. Gord who succeeded Mr. Manion as consular agent at Johannesburg, Mr. Manion having resigned a few months ago.

In the Orange Free State the United States is represented by Alfred Elliott, consular agent at Bloemfontein. He is an Englishman and it is therefore questionable whether he will remain in his character as an American agent or retire. In the latter case Mr. Macrum will probably select some suitable American to take up the duties of consular agent.

There is no present intention at the state department to issue a proclamation of neutrality. It is customary to omit these proclamations until some emergency arises, calling for their issue and such an emergency is not expected to occur in South Africa.

Not Like Maine Disaster.

London, Oct. 13.—The announcement that the Boers had destroyed an armored train on the western border of the Transvaal is calculated to bring home to "the man in the street" the realities of war. Attempts are made to liken the occurrence to the blowing up of the United States battleship Maine in Havana harbor, but that event occurred in time of peace. The Boers were doubtless within their rights as belligerents if they are responsible for the destruction of the train. Taken in conjunction with the early announcement from Vryburg that 3,000 Boers were holding in line, it can only be inferred that the train was either destroyed by artillery or blown up by dynamite or some other powerful explosive.

Blames the Queen.

Pretoria, via Lorenzo Marques, Oct. 13.—An official manifesto has just been addressed to Afrikaners throughout South Africa, appealing to them to resist "the unjust demands of Great Britain," and accusing Lord Salisbury, Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Alfred Milner of treachery. It blames the queen for condoning what it describes as "Mr. Chamberlain's criminal policy," and declares that "the clear desire and object of Great Britain are to deprive the Transvaal of independence on account of gold mines on the Rand."

Tarte May Resign.

Ottawa, Oct. 13.—The ministerial situation created by the Transvaal incident has about resolved itself into this: That if the government sends a Canadian contingent to South Africa, Mr. J. Israel Tarte will resign. The minister of public works has already made it pretty plain in his newspaper and in his speeches that he regarded the participation of Canada in one of England's foreign entanglements, as he is pleased to term the trouble as a phase of imperialism, that Quebec Liberals will not tolerate.

On the Fence.

Cape Town, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Colesburg, just south of the Orange river, announces that the town was warned to be in readiness for an attack. The attack did not occur. The inhabitants, according to the dispatch, are "wavering whether to greet the Boer with cold lead or hot coffee."

Kaffirs Brought In.

Lorenzo Marques, Oct. 13.—Ten thousand Kaffirs from the Rand have been brought here by train and are now encamped about six miles outside of town. Steamers are being chartered to take them to the Limpopo district.

WILL BUILD VESSELS

In Which to Ship Iron Ore From the Upper Lake Regions.

COUNTER MOVE OF CARNEGIE.

A Representative of Steel Magnate's Interests Says Advance of Rates by Rockefeller Has No Significance.

Pittsburg, Oct. 13.—A representative of the Carnegie-Oliver Mining interests, in commenting upon the announcement that Rockefeller had secured all the ore-carrying vessels and that rates on ore would be considerably advanced next season, said: "As to the transportation of ore mined by the Carnegie-Oliver interests, the advance in freight rates is of no significance. Lake navigation for this season will close about November 1 and until the close of the present season the mining companies' ship under an agreement made with the large company some time ago. By the opening of navigation next spring we hope to be able to ship our ore in our own vessels, and consequently advanced rates will not be to our detriment."

Ate Poisoned Cabbage.

Huntington, W. Va., Oct. 13.—Eighty-five persons at a wedding feast south of here were poisoned, and it is feared that there may be a number of fatalities. It was the occasion of the marriage of Miss Susie Sidebottom and Joseph Dillon, prominent young people of the county. The handsome country home of the bride's father presents a hospital scene. The grand ball was in progress when a number of persons became suddenly ill and had to be carried from the hall room. Poison placed on growing cabbage some months ago from which slaw was made is attributed as the cause.

Fought a Duel.

London, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Paris says that a reporter of the Intransigent, M. Rochefort's paper, asserts that while seeing a friend off on the Orient express, he observed Colonel Schneider, former military attaché of the Austro-Hungarian embassy in Paris, being carried to the train, accompanied by physicians and with blood flowing from a wound in his side. Colonel Schneider said: "I recently returned from Switzerland to fight a duel with Captain Cuignet on account of his evidence regarding me before the Rennes courtmartial."

Jubilee Convention.

Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—The Christian churches, or Disciples of Christ, began here the jubilee of their organized missions. This denomination, which began 75 years ago under the leadership of Dr. Alexander Campbell, and has had such distinguished adherents as President Garfield and Hon. Jeremiah S. Black, is now more than 1,000,000 strong. Three-fourths are in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Kentucky, Tennessee and Kansas. They are notably an active denomination in Evangelistic work. Over 100,000 converts were added the present year.

General Merritt's Report.

Washington, Oct. 13.—The annual report of Major General Wesley Merritt, commanding the department of the east with headquarters at Governor's Island, N. Y., was made public at the United States war department. The report is a strong arraignment of the whole situation in the artillery branch of the service, being particularly directed against the ordnance bureau and incidentally the quartermaster's department, the latter for failure to furnish what General Merritt considers proper quarters at artillery posts.

Big Purchase of Coal Land.

Pittsburg, Oct. 13.—The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company has closed the deal for the purchase of the immense tract of coal belonging to the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company, at Charleroi, for $1,000,000 cash. The money has been paid into the Union Trust company and the river combine is now in possession. The tract contains about 4,000 acres and is one of the largest bodies of coal on the Monongahela river.

A Windless Fog.

New York, Oct. 13.—There was no race for the America's cup. For the third successive day for a race between the Columbia and the Shamrock there was no wind. The attempt to race will be renewed Saturday. When the race was officially declared off at noon, the fog was impenetrable beyond a radius of 100 yards and the wind was scarcely four knots an hour.

REV. LEWIS CURTIS

Declared Technically Culpable of Misuse of Church Fund.

Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—The Rev. Dr. Lewis Curtis, one of the agents of the Methodist Book concern of this city was subjected to a protracted investigation of his official conduct as treasurer of the Freedmen's Aid society by the board of managers of that body. Specific charges were that he loaned funds of the society at interest without authority and accepted a bonus of $180 from the borrower which has been turned into the treasury. The board came to a decision that Dr. Curtis was technically culpable for acting without authority in this matter and ordered the bonus of $180 paid back to Dr. Curtis as the society had no right to it. Meantime the board asked the charitable consideration of the church for Dr. Curtis in view of his long and faithful services.

A Notable Speech.

Cape Town, Oct. 13.—Premier Schreiner, in moving the adjournment of the cape house of assembly, made a notable speech in which he alluded to the position in which the cape government was placed. He said he would do the duty imposed upon him without favor or fear—the duty of all to save the colony, so far as possible, from being involved in the vortex of war. In his circulars to the military commanders, he had already given his reasons for hoping the people would remain quiet; and now he would appeal to the members of the legislature to possess their souls in patience, however dark the days might be, and to await events with quietness and confidence. To the press representing both sides he would appeal for pity, sympathy and generosity, and he wished to make a similar appeal to the churches and to the natives of the colony. The time had not yet arrived for him to say what part he had played in trying to establish peace in South Africa. That would come later.

Immigration Alred.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Dr. J. H. Senner, former United States commissioner of immigration at the port of New York, was before the Industrial commission. He made his remarks largely upon the agitation against immigration and proceeded to show that from his standpoint it was not justified. He argued that the present law is amply sufficient, and took strong ground against the Lodge bill, contending that there had been a marked falling off in immigration in the past few years.

Knights Templar Elect.

Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—Columbus was selected as the next meeting place of the Knights Templar. Officers were elected as follows: Grand generalissimo, William Bates, Dayton; grand captain general, William T. McLean, Sidney; grand senior warden, Thomas Kite, Cincinnati; grand prelate, John M. Mills, Lima; grand treasurer, J. Burton Parsons, Cleveland; grand recorder, John Nelson Bell, Dayton.

Two Regiments to Move.

St. Louis, Oct. 13.—The local quartermaster's department of the United States army has received orders to arrange to move to San Francisco the Thirty-eighth and Forty-fourth infantry regiments. The former regiment is now at Jefferson barracks and will move on October 20, while the Forty-fourth, at Leavenworth, Kan., will go October 21.

Tragic End of Bank Robbers.

Sevierville, Tenn., Oct. 13.—Three masked robbers entered the bank here and attempted to rob the vault. President McMahon seized a gun. His first shot killed the leader, Pearl Thurman. Assistant Cashier Marshall rushed out and shot two horses. Cal Derrick, one robber, was wounded and captured. Will Derrick, the third robber, rode a mile, hotly pursued by a posse, when he suicided.

Robbed a Bank.

Nevada, Mo., Oct. 13.—Burglars entered the Farmers' bank at Schell City, near here, blew open the safe and secured $3,500 in cash, with which they escaped. A posse has been sent out to capture the robbers if possible. About 1 a. m. the town watchman was captured on the street by armed men and a hag was thrown over the man's head to stifle his cries.

A Defensive Squadron.

London, Oct. 13.—The formation of a British flying squadron has created considerable bewilderment. It is purely a defensive measure and inspired by the bitter hostility to England displayed by the continental press. The Russian official organs are foremost in threats and incitements to join the action against Great Britain and though official Germany proclaims itself neutral, the German press is second only to the Russian in its denunciation of England's South African policy.

GREETED BY PUPILS.

Demonstrations at West Superior in Honor of President.

DULUTH IS ALSO VISITED.

West Superior, Wis., Oct. 13.—President McKinley and party arrived here over an hour late. Over 15,000 people, including 7,000 school children, received the party at the city hall.

A committee of children presented the president and party with a neat printed souvenir purchased with penny contributions by the school children. Caroline Kennedy, a 6-year-old girl, presented the souvenir. The president thanked the children graciously.

Mayor Deltrich introduced the president who spoke as follows:

"Fellow Citizens—I need not be told that the people of this city love their country. The demonstration of the morning would indicate to the most casual observer that the men, women and children are loyal to the flag and faithful in upholding its honor wherever it has been raised. It gives me special pleasure to come once more to West Superior (applause). I remember years ago to have been a guest of your city. I remember the warmth of my greeting then, but this far surpasses anything that has gone before; and no reception great as it has been on our long journey has been more beautiful or impressive than yours. I have been glad to note your progress and your prosperity."

"I have been glad to note the difference between your condition when I last was here and your condition now. The country is altogether too busy with active industry and thriving commerce to listen any longer to the prophet of evil. We are engaged now in looking after ourselves and in taking care of ourselves, and we have discovered that the best statesmanship for America is that statesmanship which looks to the highest interest of American labor and the highest development of American resources."

I have come that I may say to you that the people of this country are not only prosperous but they are patriotic. No state in the Union was more prompt to answer the call of the country than yours. The whole Union, north and south, quickly responded to the call to arms and when peace came were as quick to enter the paths of peace. I thank you most heartily. I thank the school girls and school boys. I thank you all for this splendid demonstration, not to me, not the president of the United States, but to the states and the people."

Secretaries Long and Gage also spoke.

At Duluth.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 13.—A noisy welcome was given the presidential party on its arrival in this city at 10:40 a. m. Hundreds of tug boats and grain steamers were anchored under the bridge across the St. Louis river and as the special train passed overhead the screaming sirens beneath the bridge produced a hair-raising sensation to those aboard the train. An escort committee of prominent Duluthians headed by Mayor Truelsen and Congressman Page Morris boarded the train at West Superior. Entering carriages at the Great Northern depot, the presidential party was driven through blocks of cheering humanity to the high school building. At the head of the procession marched a battalion of the Third Minnesota volunteers.

Remains Identified.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The body of the man who was killed after trying to rob the bank of C. H. Patten at Palatine, Ill., several weeks ago, and was supposed to be William Lawton, was exhumed and identified as that of Dr. William L. Lewis of Chicago, who has been missing since the day of the attempted robbery. It is claimed by relatives of Lewis, who were present at the disinterment that the dead man was of unsound mind, owing to the excessive use of morphine.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 13.—Practically all the mills in this state are now organized under the name of the American Association of Knit Underwear Manufacturers which has decided to make a 15 per cent. advance in the price of fleece underwear, which is the kind most generally worn and in which line the competition heretofore has been the fiercest. This advance has been fully warranted, the association claims, by the advance in the cost of cotton and wool to the manufacturers. It has also been decided to do away with special discounts and long credits.

HON. WALLACE BRUCE,

One of the Greatest Lecturers of the Day
 Speaks at the Court House To-night.

Remember the lecture at the courthouse to-night, under auspices of the Y. M. C. A., by Hon. Wallace Bruce, will give you an opportunity to hear one of the greatest lecturers of the age. It has been said that Maysville people do not care for lectures, but we believe it a mistake and the Y. M. C. A. propose to provide for the people a class of entertainments of the very highest type,—elevating, educating and entertaining. The one to-night is of the highest order. The Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette says: "Mr. Bruce is graceful on the platform, in character a vivacious gentleman, and in mental temperament a poet. The lecture was brilliant, touched here and there by a witty point, and interesting throughout with illustrations of character. In developing his ideas the eloquent speaker led his hearers through a way environed with enchantment at every turn."

His temperament, at once enthusiastic and practical, is revealed in his lectures, which, perhaps more than any other on the platform, combine wit and humor, literature and philosophy, patriotism and eloquence.

A special price have been made for students of all the schools of the city—25 cents. Fifty cents is the regular price.

A Narrow Escape.
 Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent one above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and I thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at J. Jas. Wood's drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

Mr. CHARLES H. WHITE fell through a hatch at his Sutton street property Friday and was painfully injured, receiving a cut on his forehead and bruising one arm and leg. He is able, however, to be out to-day.

TO THE POINT.

Senator Goebel Replies to Hon. John G. Carlisle's Letter.

Democracy's Leader Gets Back at the Ex-Secretary in a Convincing Manner.

Senator Goebel spoke to a big crowd at Beaver Dam, Ky., Thursday, and replied at length to the recent letter of Hon. John G. Carlisle, which had reference to a letter from Mr. Goebel to Mr. Carlisle in 1896. Mr. Goebel said:

"The letter written by me shows for itself that it was written in response to a letter from John G. Carlisle, and I haven't preserved Mr. Carlisle's letter to me. When I read it I didn't think the time would ever come when I would find that I ought to have preserved a letter written me by the Secretary of the Treasury and a candidate for the office of President, in order to defend myself against a false accusation. [Applause.]

"Now, the material part of Mr. Carlisle's letter is this: He says that I induced him to aid me in getting the State Central Committee to recognize the County Committee for Kenton County, which consisted of my friends, that I might control the delegation from my county to the Lexington convention of 1896, and when I obtained, through his aid, recognition of the committee by the State Central Committee I went to Lexington and cast the vote of my county for the free silver candidate for Chairman of that convention and for Joseph C. S. Blackburn for President. [Applause.]

"Now, you know, as a matter of history, that I did cast the vote of my county for Mr. Bronston, who was the free silver candidate for Chairman of that convention, and I did cast the vote of my county for J. C. S. Blackburn for President. [Applause.] My friends, the statement of Mr. Carlisle that he rendered me any aid in obtaining recognition of the committee which was loyal to me is untrue."

The speaker then quoted a paragraph or two from the Carlisle letter, and said: "My friends, before answering Mr. Carlisle's publication, I want to be in a position to establish the fact that long before Mr. Carlisle wrote me the State Chairman, Charles P. Long, and the Secretary of the State Committee, R. H. Ingram, had formally recognized the members of the committee loyal to me, and it so happens that I have been able to obtain the credentials issued to those committeemen. I'll read one of them to you."

Mr. Goebel then produced the entire lot of credentials in their original envelopes and read one constituting John Kirt Executive Committeeman for the Eighth ward, of Covington, authorizing him to act in that capacity. It was signed by Chairman Long and Secretary Ingram and dated October 30, 1895. He then continued:

"So, my friends, you see I didn't need the aid of J. G. Carlisle in obtaining the recognition of my committee. I had for six months had the recognition of the highest party authority for that committee, and when Mr. Carlisle states that through his aid I secured recognition for that committee as a member, of course he states what is untrue. You gentlemen who have attended State conventions and are familiar with their operations know that in the ordinary procedure before the convention itself meets there is a district convention presided over by the State Executive Committeeman for the district and that Chairman decides what delegates are entitled to seats in that district convention. Now, the only other charge that Mr. Carlisle makes is that he aided me in getting Mr. Ellis to recognize my delegation in the district convention which preceded the Lexington State convention, and that thereafter I violated faith by casting the vote of that delegation for J. C. S. Blackburn for President and Bronston for Chairman. Now, my friends, it happens that this is also wholly untrue.

"Mr. Ellis did not recognize my delegation; he refused to recognize them. He excluded my delegates and myself from that district convention and recognized the delegates selected under the auspices of the other alleged Democratic committee in my county, and Mr. Carlisle could not have served me in that respect.

"Now, my friends, I'll tell you why I wrote to Mr. Carlisle. When I was twenty-four years old John G. Carlisle made me his law partner. He was a great man, a man conspicuous in our nation. His action was immensely valuable to me, and it gave me a standing at the time which nothing else could have done, and of course I have entertained feelings of gratitude to him. When you came to the selection of delegates to the National convention of '96 Mr. Carlisle, as a candidate for President, naturally wanted the vote of his own county.

"Mr. Carlisle's friends came to me about it. They said they knew I had led Blackburn's fight at Frankfort and had refused to vote for Carlisle for United States Senator, but they said I owed Mr. Carlisle a debt of gratitude and that every man of his own county ought to give him any assistance possible in his efforts to be nominated for President. All we ask you to do, they said, is to keep your hands off in this fight and let him have the delegation to Lexington.

"It so happens that at about this time I went to Washington on business before the Supreme Court in the lottery case in which Governor John Young Brown had employed me as special counsel for the Commonwealth. While I was there three members of Congress and a United States Senator called on me and asked me to call on Mr. Carlisle. I did not go then. Mr. Carlisle's son, Mr. Logan Carlisle, called on me and asked me to stay over in Washington until the next day.

"On the next morning Mr. Logan Carlisle came to the Riggs House for me and went with me to the office of his father. Mr. Carlisle said he was a candidate for President, and that he was anxious to have the vote of his district in the State convention. He spoke about my fight for Blackburn, and said he hoped I would not make war on him.

"I told him I had no war to make on him. I said he was my personal friend, but that I could not vote for him at Frankfort because Jo Blackburn was the Democratic nominee for United States Senator, and I never could or would vote against a Democratic nominee. [Prolonged cheering.]

"Now, my friends, I returned to Covington, and then Mr. Carlisle wrote me, asking about the condition of affairs in the Sixth district as affecting his candidacy, and it is my reply to that letter which he has given out for publication now. Now, my friends, I have only this to say concerning that letter to Mr. Carlisle and the events which followed: I had a talk with J. C. S. Blackburn before I met Mr. Carlisle in Washington. I met J. C. S. Blackburn by appointment at the Burnet House, in Cincinnati, before the Lexington convention. I told him about my talk with Carlisle.

"Blackburn generous, magnanimous man that he is! said: 'Let him have his Congressional district. We will beat him anyway,' and I don't believe that John G. Carlisle would have said the same thing with the conditions reversed. [Cheers.]

"The letter he has published was written for his benefit, not mine. Let him show you how he justifies the publication of that letter. [Here Senator Goebel read an alleged interview with himself, and announced to have occurred at Cynthiana and published in a Louisville paper, and it made Senator Goebel accuse Mr. Carlisle of gross untruthfulness.]

"I did not say a word at Cynthiana about Carlisle. I have not given an interview to any one on the subject. That publication was made to give Mr. Carlisle an excuse for giving out a letter written by me in confidence and for his benefit.

"It is one of the many lies which the Louisville papers have printed about me. Mr. Carlisle ought to have learned from me whether or not I made such a statement.

"I believe that John G. Carlisle knew I had never made such a statement. He availed himself of the excuse to publish that letter. It may have been proper, but I had rather be a dog and bay at the moon than such a Roman. [Applause.] Another word. Mr. John G. Carlisle's brother-in-law, John Goodson, was Chief of Police of Covington. At the election in '95 he bolted the Democratic ticket and worked for the election of the Republican ticket, and when the Democratic Mayor came into office the next spring John Goodson walked the plank, as every bolter ought to walk the plank. [Cheers and applause.] Now, my friends, when the time came to select delegates to the Lexington convention the men John G. Carlisle's friends wanted on that delegation were his brother-in-law, John A. Goodson, with whom I was not on speaking terms; his brother, Napoleon Carlisle; Henry Queen and some other gentlemen, who are my sworn political enemies. I revolted right there.

"While I was willing to let Carlisle have the vote of his county, I was not going to turn myself over for his benefit to my political enemies. [Applause.]

"If any man was guilty of bad faith it was Mr. Carlisle or Mr. Carlisle's friends."

TALKING POLITICS
And It Ended In a Shooting Scrape—Frank Robinson, Colored, Slightly Wounded Last Evening.

The saloon at the Diener House on Market street was the scene of a shooting scrape last evening about 6:30 o'clock. "Shelbark" Craven got into a discussion with Frank Robinson, colored, on State politics, and the latter finally struck Mr. Craven, knocking him to the floor. While the two were down a pistol was fired by some one, and Robinson exclaimed "I've got it." Frank got the ball, as it entered one of his legs, about half way between the knee and thigh, inflicting a flesh wound.

Ben Diener was arrested charged with firing the shot and was released on $200 bond for his appearance. It is claimed, however, that Diener was in the back room at the time, and the claim is also made that Robinson fired the shot, accidentally wounding himself.

BILLIONS.

Figures That Stagger All But Mathematical Minds

Required to indicate the Capital Stock of Trusts and Companies Incorporated the Past Year.

Two thousand corporations, chartered and authorized to issue capital stock to the amount of three and a half billion dollars, is the record of the State of New Jersey for the fiscal year of the Corporation Department, which ended September 30th.

Nearly 200 of these corporations are each capitalized at $2,000,000 and upward. Six hundred of them each have a capitalization of $1,000,000 or better.

One hundred of the charters of the year were granted to absolute trusts, and several hundred went to "mushroom" concerns. Of the latter class the American Pottery Company, capitalized at $27,000,000 is a shining example. It never materialized except on paper.

Fifteen thousand trusts and combinations and other corporations, in every section of America, are to-day operating under the liberal and exclusive laws of New Jersey. Upward of 200 of the number are simon-pure trusts, organized to control absolutely various products and enterprises.

By the incorporation of these concerns the State has legalized the issuance of stock aggregating upward of $8,000,000,000.

Of the issued capital stock conservative authorities estimate one-half as water.

When the creation of trusts in America began New Jersey went into the market and offered such favorable inducements in the way of legislation as to soon earn for herself the sobriquet of "the cradle of monopolies."

The early reputation of the State has been sustained, and 95 per cent. of the big combinations of capital of the country have secured legal life within its borders.

But this year witnessed the formation of more trusts and large corporations than any other in the history of the country, and the business of the State has far surpassed the expectations of its most sanguine trust advocates.

What a splendid type of tireless activity is the sun as the psalmist describes it, "tossing like a bridegroom from his chamber and rejoicing like a strong man to run a race." Every man ought to rise in the morning refreshed by slumber and renewed by rest, eager for the struggle of the day. But how rarely this is so. Most people rise still unrefreshed, and dreading the strain of the day's labors. The cause of this is deficient vitality and behind this lies a deficient supply of pure, rich blood, and an inadequate nourishment of the body. There is nothing that will give a man strength and energy, as will Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It does this by increasing the quantity and quality of the blood, enfeebling organs, and gives that sense of strength and power which makes the struggle of life a joy. The "good feeling" which follows the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" is not due to stimulation, as it contains no alcohol, whiskey or other intoxicant. It does not brace up the body, but builds it up into a condition of sound health.

GREAT GUNS

Were those used by our navy in destroying the Spanish fleet. We handle nearly every kind of firearm manufactured, but this is one of the sorts that have no place upon our shelves. However, we are headquarters for Sportsmen's Supplies in Northeastern Kentucky, and carry a full line of and Rifles; Hunting Coats, Vests, Leggings, Belts and Gun Cases; loaded and empty Shells; smokeless Shells; DuPont's Powder, black and smokeless. Look in our windows and see some of the old timers on exhibition, and also take a peep at the more modern weapons we display.
